Wish the many hundreds of warm friends and admirers of Dr. Carl P. McConnell in our ranks might have shared a recent note of fellowship I had with him at his home, and be privileged to share a view of the evidence of the usefulness, and the influence of his work, with me the evidence of his useful researches along the lines of osteopathic pathology. I am sure it would give a night of unusual pleasure to one and all alike, as it did to me.

This reunion and evening of pipes and shop-talk had long been coming to us. It is Dr. McConnell’s wont frequently to drop in on the editor of a Thursday afternoon—his “day off,” and one of mine “on”—and report the latest findings in his last dog. We had planned to get an uninterrupted evening together ever since directory work began to lower, and this was the first opportunity. Mrs. McConnell and the boy were in Georgia, so it was sort of a humane act to go home with the doctor and help him fill time.

Dr. and Mrs. McConnell have a lovely apartment in Kenwood at 8484 Washington avenue, about 12 minutes ride down the South side lake front from the Auditorium on the steam cars. They have a “double-decked flat,” as it were, with an upstairs and downstairs, so their apartment has all the comfort of a house. It is artistically and beautifully furnished and decorated. The only evidence I saw of the new-comer (who arrived no last visit) was a pink wicker stand holding a dainty little bath-tab framed in lace above which stood mournfully deserted, in the lardary, awaiting the return of the young master of the house. When I saw that, it dawned upon me with new force that Carl is now a father.

Dr. McConnell’s workshop is the front room upstairs, overlooking the lake. It is cozy and comfortable. Books hide the walls—the latest and best, old friends, new and strangers. A glance proclaims the devoted student. Then there are the adjuncts of the laboratory—huge bottles of staining fluids, preservatives and reagents, bottles of preserved “slides” mounted, but as yet unex, boxes of finished slides, duly labeled, a microlme and microscope, scales, all the other paraphernalia of preparing slides, score books on technique and others illustrated profusely with the reproductions of the best stained and mounting of physiological and pathological tissues that have yet been achieved. By comparison it is easy to see where Dr. McConnell’s work is as good as the best, and to point out its original features.

On the walls of the home workshop are etchings of the men of science—Darwin, Humboldt, Huxley, Tyndall, Spencer, A. T. Still and others. I must not omit the box of pipes and choice tobacco—but I blush to say Dr. “Charley” Darling, uncle of Carl’s boy, had smoked the last cigar, after stuffing four or five into his vest-pocket, the night before. But who could have for cigars when pipes are available? Surely, no editor.

(Should mention that we had eaten dinner downtown, so Carl did not have to worry about culinary matters. He says “out” when the misus is away visiting.)

Dr. McConnell put on his dressing sack and slippers, had a smoke and then initiated me into the mysteries of his laboratory work. Slide after slide, the various pathological tissues of his various dogs. They were beautifully stained and mounted, and were not only the best I have ever seen, but I—find no exhibits of degenerative changes in the best and latest texts that are any better. All stages of cell disturbance from an ecchymotic nerve cell to an obliterated vein or artery, and including all grades of change in broken-down nerve and epithelial secreting cells were clearly and instructively exhibited.

Another Step for Scientific Medicine

When Dr. McConnell gave me the “case reports” of six last dogs—which he had done the honor of making the humble means of advancing scientific knowledge one peg or two forward in that they go to prove—to demonstrate the osteopathic theory of lesions and the swift healing that goes on after the nervous lesion has been removed, the dog still alive, and is proving, so that all men may verify it again and again, as often as a doubt arises in the human mind as to the correctness of the conclusions THAT THE OSTEOPATHIC IDEA IS RIGHT.

I fancy that “Gautama Siddartha, the Buddha, who accepted the old Brahman doctrine of transmigration of the soul, could have fancied no sweeter existence or greater privilege for any soul, working out its destiny in previous animal existence by merit, by sacrifice and by good done to the cause of truth, than to have yielded up its life thus, as did these dogs, in order that knowledge of life and the laws of health and sickness might be better established! Compare their fate to the ox that goes to the block, to the fish that is hooked, and the bird snared—or even to the cantankerous pup that is killed in an alley fight, or by street cars, dog-catchers, or eating poisoned meat! These dogs were heroes and poets in comparison, and deserve a tablet in the temple of osteopathic fame!
The course given will be a three years course, of nine months each. If you are interested in Osteopathy, fall in line and be one of the profession. Begin now to investigate and get ready to enter the next class. Don’t be afraid to ask for information; we will gladly answer all questions.

CATALOGUE AND OTHER INFORMATION FURNISHED UPON REQUEST. ADDRESS

GEO. MOFFETT, D. O., Secretary

538 NEW RIDGE BUILDING

The Osteopathic Physician

CENTRAL COLLEGE OF

OSTEOPATHY

729 TROOST AVENUE

KANSAS CITY, MO.

Classes Matriculate in September and January of Each Year

The faith that is in us are put where all may inspect and prove them up who choose!

Profiting by this experience in the first series of dogs, Dr. McConnell has preserved the material of these latter dogs, carefully labeled, so that anyone questioning his slides and their findings may shake off practically an unlimited number of fresh specimens, stack up for the various findings, see for himself. This makes for the economy of dog life and trouble in proving up these findings.

Victory in New York Senate

Thus the good news of an initial victory in New York came to “The O. P.” Later details were that the bill was declared on all hands to be a winner, and free from the objectionable features that stirred up opposition last year. Its chances in the house are believed to be excellent.

Of course the same medical forces were gathered in Albany to oppose the bill as before but that they could not prevail against the sound judgment and fairness of the senators is shown by the vote.

The Albany Argus of April 13 gave a very interesting column report of this bill passing the senate and predicted it would find many friends in the house.

We congratulate Dr. Hart and the osteopathic host of New York state who are working together as one man to secure this victory, and that they deserve victory goes without the saying. We hope to report victory in the house and the governor’s approval in an early number.

Unfortunate Breach in Massachusetts

We have lost our battle in Massachusetts by division again this year. The division is a very radical one and does not give much hope of the two factions getting together. We have a full statement from leading Osteopaths on both sides of the case, and had expected to go into details somewhat in reviewing the situation; but have decided it is too complicated to try to report, and that nobody but a Philadelphia lawyer with unlimited space at his disposal could untangle the skein, so we will not attempt to present the case to our readers at all. Broadly speaking, the independent Osteopathic Board supporters have not only to fight their medical opponents, but to meet the opposition of a considerable osteopathic party which does not believe in an independent board, but wants Osteopathy regulated by the medical board of the state and to be made to answer the same requirements. This faction, which includes a lot of our best people, and whose brains and character cannot be impugned, say the genius of the commonwealth is opposed to independent boards, and they say that local conditions make it undesirable and unnecessary to have an independent board. They put up a strong and plausible argument.

Notwithstanding, it is the editor’s judgment that our stalwarts fighting for an independent board in Massachusetts have a much stronger argument, and they are no doubt laboring under a heavy handicap in coping with such opposition within our own ranks. It was quoted against them freely on the floor of the legislature. And butfor that opposition in our own ranks we probably would have won a victory this year.

That is all “The O. P.” for justified in saying, and while some of the stalwarts score their opponents severely, we do not believe that anybody outside the state can really form any definite opinion, except that we are hopelessly divided. The next move in this question is to present the motives of any Osteopath in this fight, however much he may deplore that the A. O. program for an independent board has been at least temporarily defeated.

Osteopathy in Congress

Representative Sherman, of New York, introduced a bill to create an independent Osteopathic Examining Board in the District of Columbia in the lower branch of congress, March 19. The bill provides that the board shall consist of five members, to be appointed from a list of eight submitted by the District Osteopathic Association. It is stipulated in the bill that the board shall hold examinations the second Thursday of April and October and issue licenses to practice. All persons applying must have a diploma from a college of Osteopathy and must pay a fee of $100 to the board for a license. If practicing five years the Osteopathist may get a license without examination by paying five dollars. By a vote of four members of the board a license may be revoked because of fraud or deceit in passing the examination, chronic inebriety, practice of criminal abortion, conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude, or unprofessional or dishonorable conduct. It also provides that licenses shall be registered by the clerk of the supreme court of the district at an expense of 50 cents. For violation of the law a penalty of $500 fine or not more than 90 days imprisonment is imposed.

New England’s Big Meeting

The second annual convention of the New England Osteopathic Association was held March 17 at West Newton, N. Y. The chief feature was an address by Dr. A. L. Evans, president of the A. O. A., who was the guest of the association. The president, Dr. F. C. Leavitt, called the meeting to order and the following programme was given: Song, M. C. O.

Firm but Flexible

Every Osteopath knows how important it is to keep the spinal column in perfect adjustment after each treatment.

The Sheldon Appliance Does This Perfectly

Its use will add 50 per cent to your success with not only women and children, but with men.

The Sheldon Appliance is made to order and after the most careful measurements made by the physician. It is absolutely firm and offers a perfect support while, at the same time, it is flexible and gives perfectly to every normal movement of the body. Easy and pleasant to wear, causes no chafing or sweating, is 100 years in advance of the usual plaster, leather, and other jackets.

We will be very happy to send to you our full literature, knowing that it will prove of unusual interest for an independent measurement Blank. Write for these and for Special Terms to Osteopaths.

THE PHILO-BURT CO.,

141 16th Street.

Jamestown, N. Y.
Chiropractic.

"Bill a Still... to see him brought to justice..."

The following officers acted as toastmaster and toasts apportioned:

Opium: at C. O. Glee Club; Ethics, MORMON Society, different

Frank Streetor, of Rhode Island, treasurer; the higher court, the rozwiązania in a scrapbook, verses and parts of Dr. W. J. Taplin, Boston... Osteopathic bill in the New Jersey legislature.

Jailed for Osteopathy.

John W. Griggs, of New Jersey, bondsman; "The Jefferson Bible..."

Music was furnished by the M. O. Glee Club.—Fraternally, Margaret B. Carleton, Secretary.

Osteopath Gave Opium: Patient Died

Dr. Jesse M. Hull, of Boone, Ia., was arrested on a charge of practicing medicine without a license because of the administration of laudanum in a severe case of appendicitis March 12. The warrant was secured by County At­ torney H. L. Ganoe. A coroner’s jury sitting on the case returned a verdict that death was due to opium poisoning, and that Dr. Hull had administered it. Dr. Hull stated that he had treated the patient in this way, and gave him three rectal injections of laudanum of about 10 or 15 drops each, one Monday on Wednesday and one Saturday. An M. D. testified that the drug caused the death. The de­ ceased was Frank Leland, 18 years old. The coro­ ner says the case is a serious one. Dr. Hull waived examination and gave $400 bonds to ap­ pear before the grand jury. Dr. Hull is a Still College graduate of 1865.

Victory for Dr. Baughman

J. H. Baughman, Osteopath, of Connersville, Ind., charged with practicing medicine without a license, was declared not guilty by a jury on March 24, after bringing out less than an answer. The trial lasted two days, and attracted large crowds to the courtroom. The defendant admitted practicing Osteopathy without a license, but contended that the law passed by the legislature providing for the practice of Os­ teopathy in Indiana was unconstitutional. Dr. Baughman had made two applications for a license from the state board, but had been re­ fused. He says the board required him to pass an examination in medicine, as well as in Os­ teopathy, and that he knows nothing of medi­ cine.—Indianapolis News, March 24.

A motion was promptly made for an appeal to the supreme court, and the case will be taken up. It will probably be many months before a decision is handed down, but as this law has never been construed by the higher court, the re­ ult will be awaited with vast interest by all D. O. in the state.

Beware of Indiana, Fair Lady!

A fraudulent person is moving among Osteopaths trying "to borrow money to get home on," representing that he is a D. O., and the brother of Dr. Remington Smith, of Ko­ komo, Ind. Dr. Smith authorized us to say that he hopes the next D. O. approached will have the fakir arrested. Several Indiana Osteopaths gave up money to this confidence man.

The Life and Morals of Jesus of Nazareth

Every person of education will be interested in know­ ing of this contribution to scholarship by the author of "The Declaration of Independence," and President of the United States. This little volume, as entitled by Mr. Jefferson,

"The Jefferson Bible..."

We have issued a handsome copy­ righted VEST POCKET edition of this "Jefferson Bible," contain­ ing 33 pages, on fine cal­ lended paper, which will be sent postpaid on receipt of price.

It is issued in two bindings: Hard­ some leather, 60 cents. Edition de Luxe, handsomely bound; practical­ ly binding, $1.00.

The Jefferson Bible Society

FIRMENICH BLDG., CHICAGO

P. S.—Osteopaths having "charity patients" on hand who wish to become self-supporting and able to pay for their treatments can enable us to do so im­ mediately by becoming our agents. The Jefferson Bible Society offers an opportunity to practically every osteopath in the nation. Put such patients in touch with us at once. We will enable them to make $1.00 per week.

The OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

Osteopath.

Our dear friend, Dr. Albert Palmer, one of the leaders and founder of "Chiropractic," is idling away his time in the county jail at Davenport, Ia., for "advertising and publicly professing to heal and cure diseases without the knowledge and consent of a court of justice." The State, Mr. Palmer was fined $350, and preferred to do the martyr act than pay the bill, so is now tell­ ing the people all about it through the me­ dia of the press and court records. He has been to the sick poor, and through his son (another one) has produced a numerously signed petition to the governor, we look for him to save it out.—Fraternally, Thos. J. Sharion, D. O.

If "Dr." Palmer serves out his fine in jail he will absent himself from his usual haunts 100 days, and the jail is glad to have him there. He had outlived the state board for years, and has abused and injured our profession by misrepresentation in a way that only those of us that are located near him can understand.—Fraternally, Fred B. DeGroot.

Death of Dr. L. E. Cherry

The whole profession has been shocked at hear­ ing of the death of Dr. Leslie E. Cherry, of Mil­ waukee, Wis., one of the pioneer Osteopaths, prominent in the A. O. A. and a regular at­ tendent at the profession’s national meetings. Dr. Cherry died March 23 after several weeks of illness. For some time Dr. Cherry had suf­ fered from a severe cough, followed by symp­ toms of typhoid fever, exceeded by an internal attack of pneumonia. His health had become im­ paired from constant work and growing weak­ ness was steadily apparent the last few days of his life until the end.

Dr. Cherry is survived by his wife, Dr. Essie S. Cherry, and one son, his mother and one sis­ ter. To the grief-stricken widow the whole profession will lend its sympathy.

Dr. Cherry was born at Walcott, Ia., in 1836, attended Pillsbury academy and graduated therefrom. He went to the Pennsylvania College of Osteopathy, which existed several years. Dr. Cherry was the first president of the Wisconsin Osteopathic As­ sociation, and last year at Denver was one of the nominees for president of the A. O. A., polling a large vote. Interment was at the old Minnesota home.

Novel Bill for Louisiana

We are going to introduce our bill in the Louisiana legislature on the first day of May. Our bill is being prepared now. It will be an entire­ ly different bill from any that we have in any other state. The constitution of the state of Louisiana is very peculiar. Our laws are not based on the common laws but on the old French code of Napoleon. I will let you know more about the situation in due time.—Very Truly yours, Henry Tete, D. O.

New Time in New Jersey

Former Gov. John White in New Jersey, plead for our Osteopathic bill in the New Jersey house March 20. He said the bill was not to legalize Osteopathy, for Osteopathy is al­ ready legalized under the supreme court decision, but to regulate. Dr. Charles Hazzard wet medi­ cal arguments advanced forthly. Assemblyman Berg introduced our bill, was accused of bribery in championing our cause, and pronounced his M. D. acuser with dramatic effect. The M. D. apologized.

Comedy at Pacific College

On Saturday evening, March 17, the senior class of the Pacific College of Osteopathy pre­ sented a comedy in two acts to their friends and public. They were encouraged in the attempt and there was done to make it as a theater, and the senior class supplied from their own number the requisite talent. The entertainment was eminently successful. All of the college friends went away feeling that if the professional ability of the senior class should equal its dramatic and musical talents, the success of its members as physicians is assured. The junior and freshman classes both expect to give an entertainment before the close of the present college year.

Detroit Osteopathic Society

The annual meeting for the election of officers was held at the office of Mr. Charles L. Severy, February 23, which resulted in the following elections: President, Dr. Edythe Ashmore; vice president, Dr. Ada Greene; secretary-treasurer, Dr. Charles L. Severy; board of directors, Drs. Herbert Bernard, Minnie Dawson, G. B. F. Clark, chairman of programme committee, Dr. John M. Church. The meetings for the year 1906 will be held on the third Friday of each month, the first meeting having been with Dr. Ashmore, March 16, to which all the Osteopaths and their families in southeastern Michigan were invited. A special evening with automical games was spent. The Detroit Society decided to resolve itself into a committee of the whole to assist in securing clinics for the A. O. A. programme at Put-in-Bay next August.

Eighteen Osteopathic Graduates

The first annual commencement of the graduating class in the three-year course at the American School of Osteopathy, was held at the school building March 29. There were 18 graduates. Dr. H. D. Palmer delivered the class address. Prof. Hoffman responded on the part of the faculty. Those in the class were: Louise M. Bagley, D. O.; Ida Ellis Bush, D. O.; William Silvis, D. O.; Charles D. Humphreys, D. O.; Albert Edwin Hook, D. O.; Sophronia B. Kelso, D. O.; May Van Seldan Kidwell, D. O.; Janet Kerr, D. O.; Catharine Annis, D. O.; Harry Dunbar Palmer, D. O.; Hugh Elmer Penland, D. O.; Marshall A. Smoot, D. O.; John A. Schmidt, D. O.; Emma R. Schmidt, D. O.; Mary Edith Taber, D. O.; Eddington Whitaker, D. O.; Henry Phelps Whitcomb, D. O., and William Jules Wolfert, D. O.

Boston's Welcome to Dr. Evans

A special meeting of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Society was held on the evening of March 16, at the Hotel Westminster, Boston, for the purpose of welcoming Dr. A. L. Evans and the members of the New England Osteopathic Association. In the absence of the secretary, Dr. Grace B. Taplin was elected secretary pro tem. Six new members were admitted to the society, and five new applications for membership.

A talk by Dr. Howard T. Crawford on "Appendicitis" provoked considerable discussion of this important subject. Dr. F. LeRoy Purdy's description of a difficult case of "Dysmenorrhea" and its treatment likewise paved the way for discussion. The address of the evening was given by Dr. A. L. Evans on "Unity in Diversity," and proved an immensely practical production. On motion, the doctor was requested to turn the paper over to the editor of the A. O. A. Journal for the benefit of the profession. An informal reception to Dr. Evans closed the evening.—Fraternally, Edith Stobol Cave, Secretary.

The Foremost Osteopathic College in the East

The foremost Osteopathic College in the east. Fine Buildings and Lecture Rooms and well equipped Laboratories in the various departments.

Situated in the world-acknowledged center of medical training, with Hospitals, Anatomical Museums, Free Public Lectures and Clinics open to Osteopathic Students.

Facility selected for their high qualifications and fitness in teaching, representing four Osteopathic College Whitaker, D. O.; Henry Phelps Whitcomb, D. O., and Will.

Pennsylvania Osteopathic College

The Pennsylvania Osteopathic College was held in the office of Drs. Shilling and Thorne on March 22. It was decided to form from among the alumni a corporation to purchase the building and grounds of the Pacific College of Osteopathy at Los Angeles and hold the same for the use, benefit and advancement of the college. This relieves the corporation of a great load of financial responsibility; and the college upon a thoroughly safe financial basis, as henceforth it will have no expenses to meet aside from those necessary for the department of instruction. The loyalty and enthusiasm of the alumni are most encouraging and the college will continue its position as a leader in the field of Osteopathic Education.

Chicago Society Feasts

Dr. Albert Fisher, Sr., will talk about "Orthodox Osteopathy and Chicago Osteopathic Society at Dr. McConnell's office, April 26. At the last meeting at Dr. McDougall's office Dr. Frank C. Farmer read a very strong paper. The belief is growing out a hint that the Osteopaths now have a chance to get at its cause through their laboratory investigations of spinal and brain injuries. He emphasized the latest view that it was due to a nerve lesion, not a primary disturbance of the organs.
THE OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

Year Book Mailed Out
Notice This Subscribers

The Osteopathic Directory was mailed to the entire membership of the American Osteopathic Association on April 6. Every book went out under eight-cent postage. They were devoted to the list of members that were received by the American Osteopathic Association on April 4, to whom all the copies were mailed on the same day, as the proper list had been sent to the Chicago post office. Those who wanted to subscribe for the Year Book should write the postmaster at their old address at once, INCLUSING EIGHT CENTS IN POSTAGE, and asking to forward it.

If anyone entitled to the Year Book not yet receiving it will notify us at once, we will advise him to what address it was sent.

Regular subscription copies of the Year Book that had been paid for and not mailed were sent out in the same way on the same date in part and the balance the day following.

Other subscribers not mailed until April 16. That was because we knew that some considerable misunderstanding existed among this list of subscribers as to whom among those who had not paid for their paid copies really were in that class and whom were not. In all the printed matter sent out, including order blanks and order postals, we stated plainly that every member of the A. O. A. in good standing would get one free copy of the Year Book. Those who wanted to subscribe for an additional copy at $1.00, and all others who wanted to buy a copy were invited to indicate it by a "yes" along with their name and address duly added, otherwise they were to write "no." We supposed this could not be misunderstood, but it was. A good many A. O. A. members entered an order for a paid copy, and all, of course, were duly booked without looking up whether they, as association people, were also to get one free copy or not.

To avoid any injustice to them or loss to either of us through possible misunderstanding on this point, we sent out a bill to every person booked as a subscriber whose subscription price had not been paid, along with a printed notice that they had so subscribed and that we were ready to fill the order. This was done April 4. A great many A. O. A. members notified us promptly that we were mistaken; they "didn’t want two copies;" and "hadn’t ordered an extra pay copy," etc. Of course, this situation, altogether due to their carelessness, works a little hardship on us, as it caused us to overprint our edition considerably, and made us do much needless bookkeeping, etc., but we are not complaining, and only make this statement to show that in this situation we understand what has happened. We don’t want to force anybody to buy the Year Book, or buy a second copy of it, who doesn’t want to, and who won’t pay for it. As we got some sharp letters intimating as much, this explanation is timely.

As everybody in the United States had plenty of time to countermand his order after receiving this warning of April 4, we felt justified on April 16 in mailing out all additional copies subscribed for, but not paid for, with the proper postage. We had not given us any reply to this letter. We hope these will appreciate our courtesy, notwithstanding their negligence, and show it by promptly remitting the price.

It is our hope that The Osteopathic Directory for 1906 will give satisfaction.—The Publishers.

Echoes, Mostly Bad, Heard About the Year Book

A. S. O. Enrollment Error Not Ours

Editor Laughlin points out that in the new "Osteopathic Directory" just issued by the A. S. O. the names of some of the students were omitted from the list of students in attendance upon the osteopathic colleges all the members of the senior, junior and sophomore classes, "except those who entered from other schools last September." We are pains indeed to notice this, and hasten to acknowledge the error and apologize for it.

However, the fault is the American's School's—no fault of ours, and Dr. Hamilton's little jump upon us for the error ought to have been kept at home and landed upon whomsoever prepared this list for us.

We wrote the A. S. O.—just as we did each of the other recognized schools—that we desired to print A FULL LIST OF ALL the students enrolled for the year of 1905-6 as was then shown by registration (in December, 1905) and asked to have sent us the full list, arranged by classes, with home addresses. We thought each school could alone edit, upon its own list and all its own people; and as we received a nice typewritten list from the A. S. O., this went to the printer as "correct" with scarcely a glitch.

The explanation is due the publishers. If the A. S. O. had explained by an accompanying letter that the number selected that was not the full one for, but only the "extras," this sort of error could not have happened, We sincerely regret that it did.

If there had been sufficient time to study over these various features that sort of discrepancy would have been readily apparent; but there was no such leisure; and such extra features of the book as adding to the list of present osteopathic students was done mechanically, putting in just the reports that the college furnished. We even had hard work to accomplish that much, because school resisted ten different notifications and appeals for this data, and only got it in after March 1—about five months after we set out to solicit this data.

To All Whose Addresses are Wrong

We have received quite a number of letters complaining that although certain Osteopaths sent their correct addresses to us direct, and we were sending them mail matter all year, still the Year Book gives them wrong, and, naturally enough, this looks stupid and inexcusable to the doctors involved, and they want explanations.

We have looked up a number of these cases, and the answer is practically the same in each instance. As we cannot write a personal letter to all these persons we now answer all such questions at the same time.

We doubled had your address correct at first, and it may even have been set up in type that way. Then, after continuing the revision several months, the proof of each state was printed by the insurance company, and we duly made practically every correction that they marked upon our proofs without question, supposing no secretary would change our records if he didn’t know he was right. Many of them were proved to have been badly mistaken, and we believe now that had our book appeared without its last revision it would have been nearer right than it is.
THE OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

Are Women More Sinners Than & A Sinned Against, Ethically?

M.

The Osteopathic Physician, "Don't which you speak of joining a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.

Mr. Editor: Your editorial in the No­

knock the Women, My brother," and in

which you express the desire to join a "Golden Rule Class," etc., should have been, and doubtless was, read, with interest by most of the profession. What many, Mr. Editor, the earnings and what should be heeded and the good advice fol­

owed, not only by every man Osteopath in the profession, but also by a goodly proportion of the women D. O.'s!

The exclusion is not due to a decree of ours in

your individual case. But we follow instructions, and the same rule applies to all alike. No rule can be framed that won't work a hard

ship on somebody.
There was much protest, also, against the statement of Dr. Hildreth in your "O. P." in which he says that the congenital hip reduction operation is not osteopathic, but strictly surgical. This operation is osteopathic surgery, such as Dr. Still started to develop when he chartered the A. S. O. to reform the present system of surgery, obstetrics and the treatment of diseases in general. It is strictly an osteopathic operation, not included under the head of Osteopathy, then Osteopathy is not an independent system, and the Osteopath is not entitled to be a physician. He is simply a radical osteopath as the doctors have called him. The A. O. A. has committed itself to this in its announced policy ever since the Indianapolis convention, when it was announced as the program to include everything in the therapeutic field outside of materia medica.

The educational reports endorsed by the A. O. A. have adopted Osteopathy and surgery, better Osteopathy in the fields of theos, obstetrics and surgery as the field of our science and art. I do not think we should go back.

I believe, with Dr. Vastine, that our bills should read, at present, at least, "three years for the regular practitioner," and a fourth year provided for those who wish to acquire and prepare for the practice of osteopathic operative surgery. In the fall of 1902, as a member of the legislative committee of the Illinois Osteopathic Association, I submitted the draft of a bill for regular practitioners based on the requirements of the A. C. O., and for those desiring to practice Osteopathy in all branches, including operative surgery, a course equivalent to that required of regular medical graduates. I still believe that this is our best policy until our colleges are ready to advance to a full four-year course. This would relieve the situation in some states where we cannot get legislation except on the basis of equality.

J. MARTIN LITTLEJOHN.

Chicago, Nov. 4.

Sues M. D.'s As Conspirators

More trouble among the doctors. An "Osteopath" of South Jersey has brought against two allopaths for $10,000 damages for alleged conspiracy to ruin his business. Last week the complainant was arrested charged with going outside of his own school of practice, treating a patient by the use of a preparation for cleansing a wound, and was held by a justice of the peace for the action of the grand jury. The law has turned the civil action against his complaint alleges that other doctors were concerned at private meetings in getting up the charge against him. The three physicians, it is said, have been in their correspondence upon their lists, and "society" is considerably exercised over the complications.—Hoboken (N. J.) Observer, Jan. 27.

Write for catalogue, "Journal of Osteopathy," or any information. Address

American School of Osteopathy

KIRKSVILLE - MISSOURI

Tri-State Meeting at Kirksville

Osteopaths of Missouri, Iowa and Illinois will hold a big tri-state meeting at Kirkville, May 25 and 26, at which time the A. S. O. will dedicate its handsome new hospital. The affair will be somewhat in the nature of a jubilee, too, because "Pappy" Still has gotten well and busy after a spell to the bad in midwinter. Dr. Hildreth writes enthusiastically about the rally and reports that good support is being promised throughout the three states. We expected to get the programme in time for this issue, but did not. All come who can—even from beyond the confines of these three states.

Attention, Illinois!

Dr. Hildreth, president of the Illinois Osteopathic Association, has extended an invitation to the Osteopathic physicians of Illinois and of Iowa to attend their regular annual state association meeting, which is to be held at Kirkville, Mo., May 23 and 26, 1906. We trust that a very large number of the Illinois Osteopaths will find it possible to attend this meeting, as a pleasant and profitable time is assured.—Harrison H. Fryette, President Illinois Osteopathic Association.

Iowa in Line

The programme of Osteopathic Osteopathic Association's annual meeting, Des Moines, May 23 and 24, will be out in a few days. Of course you are aware of the tri-state convention for Kirkville, May 23 and 24, following our state convention. It is our desire to attend as a body and make the trip a joyous one. "Hope to meet you there." Very hastily and respectfully, S. B. Miller, D. O., President Iowa Osteopathic Association.

STATE BOARD ITEMS

California's State Board to meet at Los Angeles April 21 for reorganization.

New Mexico's board met at Santa Fe April 2. No report sent us of what's doing. We read about it in the populace Citizen.

At the meeting of the California State Board of Examiners, February 17, the following circular letter was published for the convenience of those desiring to locate in this state. The board resolved not to issue certificates to any class graduating from the Los Angeles College for one year from February, 1906, because the certificate required of the graduate is not up to the standard of the board. The applications of such graduates have been refused, and, I understand, that the graduates intending to practice in California have matriculated for a third year, and their obtaining certificates after the additional course depends upon the recognition which is given the school. At the next meeting of the board in April it is reported that Col. Saw will again be formal application to the board for such recognition.—Yours respectively, J. Strothard White, D. O., Secretary.

California's State Board Announcement

For the convenience of osteopathic physicians who may desire to locate in California, the State Board of Osteopathic Examiners issues the following letter, giving information in regard to the state law and the ruling of the board, supported by the best legal opinion.

1. In order to raise and maintain a high standard of efficiency, the board has ruled that any physician who desires to be licensed in this state must have graduated from a college recognized by the board, and he must have completed a full three-year course of study. The three-year course of the following colleges is recognized by this board: The California College of Osteopathy, the Pacific College of Osteopathy, the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, the American School of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery, the American School of Osteopathy, and the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy. This means that those who have completed a three-semester course and who have been in practice must have completed at least seven months of

THE OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

The largest and foremost Osteopathic College in the world. Twelve years of successful school work. Number of students exceeds seven hundred. This institution teaches genuine Osteopathy—no adjuncts.

Teaching facilities unequaled. Thoroughly equipped laboratories in all departments. Clinical advantages unlimited. Faculty composed of seventeen able and experienced instructors who devote their full time to teaching. Anatomy taught in every term—three professors in charge of this department. Special attention given to dissection and to the study of anatomy in general. New $35,000 hospital and heating plant for the use of the school now in operation.

Course of study covers a period of three years, beginning September and January of each year.

Write for catalogue, "Journal of Osteopathy," or any information. Address

American School of Osteopathy

KIRKSVILLE - MISSOURI

The American School

OF OSTEOPATHY

KIRKSVILLE MISSOURI

DR. A. T. STILL
Founder of the Science President

Museum of Osteopathic Medicine, Kirksville, MO
SAVE YOUR BACKS, D. O.'S

While "breaking up" the lumbar spine, you need not lift the legs of that 200-pound patient off the end of the table and swing his feet in mid-air at the cost of your own strength unless you like it for more strength then is necessary to get him in bed. The common sense treatment table and adjustable swing is still better than ordinary frames for many reasons. It is light, strong, durable, portable, movable, comfortable and beautiful, and is not an expensive table. No man afraid of rupture, or losing his own vitality, can afford to use any other table. No woman, mitochondrial nor strong, is to be found who will not use it. It will pay for itself in about six months. It is the best first order for all."—Dr. J. B. Price, Shadyside, Texas.

H. T. Root, Kirksville, Missouri.

additional work in a recognized college of Osteopathy before they can be licensed in this state.

(2) The state law of California provides that "any person who engages in the practice of Osteopathy within the state without having first obtained a license from the board shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of $50 to $100, or by imprisonment in the county jail.

(3) The applicant must be located in the state before a license will be issued, though the application may be made before his arrival.

(4) The board does not give examinations nor does it recognize certificates from other states.

WM. J. HAYDEN, D. O., President.
J. STROTHARD WHITE, Secretary.

Saying of Old Timers

In Osteopathy the "fee" is the essential.—Herbert D. Bernard, Detroit, Mich. [Send in your "Observations," old timers.]

Direct Results

We think "O. H." a fine "practice getter," as we know of direct results de have received through it.—Drs. Lynd & Lynd, Houston, Texas.

Why He Came Out

"George," said his mother-in-law, "I saw you coming out of a barroom yesterday."

"Yes," answered George, "I had to catch a train."—Smart Set.

New England Valuation

I appreciate the fact that "Osteopathic Health" is the best in the market to-day.—Dr. George B. Rhoads, Fall River, Massachusetts.

Another D. O. Gets Appointed

Dr. S. E. Lovell has just been appointed insurance medical examiner for fifteen counties in southeastern Ohio by the Endowment Bank, Knights of Pythias.

Some Story from Texas

We feel that we are deriving great benefit from the use of "Osteopathic Health," and want to keep up the use of the same.—Drs. Lynd & Lynd, Houston, Texas.

Goldie Granger Dies

Goldie Granger, who has figured conspicuously some years in a damage suit for malpractice at Kirksville, died April 4, which will end that rather noted case.

Family Pride

Mrs. Oldblood—Do you go back to William the Conqueror?

Mrs. Newblood—No, but our boy is a quarterback.—N. Y. Sun.
Don't Fear Microbes

"Are you not afraid you will unduly alarm people concerning microbes?" asked one scientist.

"No," answered the other. "There was some little scare, but since we told the public that money is full of microbes they lost all their terrors."—Chicago Journal.

Osteopathic Institute for Le Ray

There is talk of establishing an osteopathic institute on the D. J. Bissell property in upper Gilbert street. This property consists of a large brick residence, which is surrounded by a large grove and 35 acres of land. Parties have been in Le Roy looking over the property.—Rochester (N. Y.) Post-Express, Jan. 24.

Times for Everything

Esculapius was founding the science of medicine.

"Boys," he observed, "are only sick on school days, while the relatives of cooks are always ill on holidays."

With this simple axiom he entered on his practice.—N. Y. Sun.

Will Make Model Stateman

Dr. F. P. Young, who announces for the office of representative is a native of Indiana. He has been a resident of Kirksville seven years, during which time he has been a member of the faculty of the American School of Osteopathy. He is a son-in-law of Hon. S. M. Pickler. He will be elected beyond doubt or question.—Kirksville Journal.

Looking Backward

Jaggles—Why does that millionaire boast of his ancestry?

Waggles—Because he can't very well boast of his poverty, when his daughter eloped with the coachman, and his two sons are taking the gold punch.—Puck.

Hurt in Run-away

Dr. Will H. Bruce, of Marshall, Mo., was put out of practice for a short time recently by sustaining the dislocation of two fingers in a runaway. His first official act, after resuming the use of his pen, was to write his subscription to "The O. P.," and, naturally enough, his popularity, when his daughter eloped with the coachman, and his two sons are taking the gold punch.—Puck.

Chicago Osteopaths to Dance

The Alumni Association of the American College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery will give their second annual ball at Schiller hall Saturday evening, April 21. Refreshments will be served. Lawrence's orchestra will furnish the music. A large attendance is promised, and, of course, a pleasant time is anticipated.

M. D.'s Raise a Rumor

I am obliged to report another removal, as the doctors—or, rather, some of them—made a kick about my being in the Rose building, and the management sided with them. I am now at 801 New England building, and I trust I may remain there while I continue in practice. Yours truly, Lou E. Scott, D. O., Cleveland, O.

Lecture at Pacific College

In a talk recently given by Dr. William Bebb, of the Dental College of the University of Southern California, in the Pacific College of Osteopathy, before the Southern California Academy of Sciences, he made the interesting statement that "Hutchinson's Teeth" may be due to a number of causes other than syphilitic taint. Among other diseases which may produce this condition he mentioned measles, mumps, scarlet fever and diphtheria.

THE OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

Don't Fear Microbes

"Are you not afraid you will unduly alarm people concerning microbes?" asked one scientist.

"No," answered the other. "There was some little scare, but since we told the public that money is full of microbes they lost all their terrors."—Chicago Journal.

Osteopathic Institute for Le Ray

There is talk of establishing an osteopathic institute on the D. J. Bissell property in upper Gilbert street. This property consists of a large brick residence, which is surrounded by a large grove and 35 acres of land. Parties have been in Le Roy looking over the property.—Rochester (N. Y.) Post-Express, Jan. 24.

Times for Everything

Esculapius was founding the science of medicine.

"Boys," he observed, "are only sick on school days, while the relatives of cooks are always ill on holidays."

With this simple axiom he entered on his practice.—N. Y. Sun.

Will Make Model Stateman

Dr. F. P. Young, who announces for the office of representative is a native of Indiana. He has been a resident of Kirksville seven years, during which time he has been a member of the faculty of the American School of Osteopathy. He is a son-in-law of Hon. S. M. Pickler. He will be elected beyond doubt or question.—Kirksville Journal.

Looking Backward

Jaggles—Why does that millionaire boast of his ancestry?

Waggles—Because he can't very well boast of his poverty, when his daughter eloped with the coachman, and his two sons are taking the gold punch.—Puck.

Hurt in Run-away

Dr. Will H. Bruce, of Marshall, Mo., was put out of practice for a short time recently by sustaining the dislocation of two fingers in a runaway. His first official act, after resuming the use of his pen, was to write his subscription to "The O. P.," and, naturally enough, his popularity, when his daughter eloped with the coachman, and his two sons are taking the gold punch.—Puck.

Chicago Osteopaths to Dance

The Alumni Association of the American College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery will give their second annual ball at Schiller hall Saturday evening, April 21. Refreshments will be served. Lawrence's orchestra will furnish the music. A large attendance is promised, and, of course, a pleasant time is anticipated.

M. D.'s Raise a Rumor

I am obliged to report another removal, as the doctors—or, rather, some of them—made a kick about my being in the Rose building, and the management sided with them. I am now at 801 New England building, and I trust I may remain there while I continue in practice. Yours truly, Lou E. Scott, D. O., Cleveland, O.

Lecture at Pacific College

In a talk recently given by Dr. William Bebb, of the Dental College of the University of Southern California, in the Pacific College of Osteopathy, before the Southern California Academy of Sciences, he made the interesting statement that "Hutchinson's Teeth" may be due to a number of causes other than syphilitic taint. Among other diseases which may produce this condition he mentioned measles, mumps, scarlet fever and diphtheria.

We Make Blood and Sputum Analyses

We will continue to make analyses of sputum and urine for the profession, but only upon the previous receipt of a letter (addressing stamped envelope) asking for the examination.

We will examine the following samples. This is imperative to get results for you.

Our laboratory is equipped with drawing tables, camera microscopes, microtomes, oil immersion objectives, Bausch & Lomb and every optical need—completely up-to-date, but we have no time and do not make examinations of other classes.

May we serve you? D. O.?'s. Our prices are right.

DRS. NELSON & COKE, Louisville, Kentucky.

HARRY NELSON, D. O., R. H. COKE, D. O.
THE OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN
The Organ of News and Opinion for the Profession.
Published on the 15th of every month by The Osteopathic Publishing Company, 603, No. 171 Washington Street, Chicago.

HENRY STANHOPE BUNTING, A. B., D. O., M. D., President and Manager.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, 50 CENTS A YEAR.
ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION.

Entered at the Chicago Post Office as matter of the second class.

VOL. IX. CHICAGO, APRIL, 1906. No. 4

Fairness! Freedom! Fearlessness!

EDITORIAL.

"How to the line, let chips fall where they will."

The editor wishes to thank the many friends who have written him personal letters the past few weeks who have received replies from him. Year Book work added to other duties in this season has made it impossible to acknowledge many friendly letters, clippings, manuscripts, etc. To one and all—thank you.

Indiana practitioners are all pulled up over getting a handsome new certificate from the State Board, owing to the energy and loyal service of Dr. J. E. P. Holland, our Osteopathic representative. The old certificate was said to be a fright, and the boys thought it was intended to be so made up. The next time an Osteopath would be willing to hang it up in his office.

Country M. D.'s are kicking because the telephone is cutting down their revenue. People delay calls as long as possible, knowing they can summon the doctor any minute. It increases night calls greatly, and people frequently ask for prescriptions, after describing symptoms over the telephone. One doctor says he has had them even hang up the baby to the phone so he could hear it cough.

The doctors, druggists and dentists of Mercer county, New Jersey, are said to be forming an alliance for mutual defense and to oppose the advancement of the Osteopathic school. The dentists of that county are on the alert. The whole thing is in no way meandered by the Osteopaths, and, besides, this truce alliance needs a vacant chair to give to the undertakers, who somehow seem to have been overlooked.

Fourth Essay Contest

Again "Osteopathic Health" announces its list of handsome prizes awarded at the Put-in-Bay meeting in recognition of the best popular writers of the profession. Since only one other question—the ability to cure—affects the pocketbook of the profession as great a degree as its development of the art of popularly presenting the principles and practices of Osteopathy to the people, certainly this effort to encourage simple, lucid and effective expression in the hands of teachers and practitioners is a commendable one. It is a problem worthy of careful study, but one which nobody yet, except John Smith, Esq., considers an essay capable of interest to all. If any John Smith, Esquires, practicing Osteopathy, should give to the profession a paper on the subject, we would be glad to be allowed to present it to the profession. We would be glad to see the Osteopath have the opportunity to do this, and to do it well. The committee is a willing and enthusiastic body, and will do its best to help the profession.

Another Reprehensible Advertisement

We regret to see that a first-class Osteopath and a first-rate fellow of our acquaintance, who we are sure has been gratified by such an error entirely thoughtlessly, is circulating cards to advertise himself bearing the following plebiscite: We substitute an imaginary name out of regard for his feelings, feeling sure that he will regret the matter as soon as it is thus brought to his attention, and will not be so benefited by this mode of advancing his practice. The card is as follows:

"We wish to make your acquaintance.

DR. WHATAPITY, D. O.
404 Colliion Street, Second Floor

Wishes to introduce you to the science of Osteopathy, in a practical way.
He proposes to meet your excursions from frankness and results.

We reproduce this ad. in a series we are running to illustrate what advertisement does for our practitioners are apt to make in their announcements if not duly cautioned and restrained. By putting these cases before the whole profession, we think the widest sentiment against such unprofessional methods will be created, and in a natural way such abuses will find their own correction.

We will thank our practitioners for submitting sample cases of these abuses in advertising where flagrant instances come to their attention.

Magic Boots and Other Slanderers

The latest fakir to be arrested in New York city through the offices of the County Medical Society is one "Professor" Hilgert, who advertises as a maker of "magic mechanico-physiological boots," and caters to the wealthy.

Of course the medics could not let a nacy case like this go by without "casting some asparagus" upon Osteopathy, and so it was given out to the press by the agents of the County Medical Society who made the arrests, that with "Professor" Hilgert was one "Dr. Albert Whitehouse, an Osteopath, the professor's chief assistant, who was also arrested."

The medics never hear of any bloody old fakir down in New York nowadays without at once trying to couple his name in some way with the osteopathic profession! Well, in spite of that sort of studious misrepresentation, we seem to stand well with the people, and it is likely we will get an osteopathic law in New York this year, notwithstanding.

Another case like the foregoing was that of E. Allcutt, a Prague, Colorado, neuro-chano-therapy, who was also arrested by the County Medical Society, and who obtained a dissenting opinion of Justice Deuel, although of the court guilty of practicing medicine without a license. The medics called Allcutt "an Osteopath." They gave out, and the papers printed, that "another Osteopath had been arrested" for violating medical practice acts, etc. Some of them commented on the matter editorially. Dr. Charles Hazi-
An Outrage Against Truth

Every little while the editor protests against the publication of literature by Osteopaths containing a certain moss-grown "table" (false) alleging to the public of courses (actually reduced to figures!) of different maladies under Osteopathic treatment. IT IS A FAKE. The report is not true, and nothing like the truth in most cases. No reputable Osteopath, or Osteopathic institution, so far as the most knowing members of the profession are aware, from which any such table of figures was compiled. Some fertile brained (and rat-tail-brained) enthusiasts dig these figures up out of his own research, and it is a sort of nonsense and charlatany for any D. O. to circulate such twaddle.

Yet, every few weeks some piece of Osteopathic literature is sent us to inspect that contains this oft-denounced fable. The latest to reach us is a booklet emanating from Buffalo, from which it quotes the old prattler, and once again put it in the pillory of just condemnation, so that young and inexperienced Osteopaths may not be taken in by it, and made to appear unscientific before their fields.

The Record

"Osteopathy permanently benefits at least 90 per cent. of all chronic affections not curable by other systems of treatment. WHILE 50 PER CENT. OF THEM ARE ABOLISHED, and the rest are structurally improved.

"Constipation... 90 Bladder Trouble... 90 Pain in Back... 90 Piles... 90 Repeated Infections... 90 Sleeplessness... 90 Heart Trouble... 90 Rheumatism... 90 Stomach Trouble... 90 Nervousness... 90 Appendicitis... 90 Kidney Trouble... 90 Skin Troubles... 90 Chronic Diarrhoea... 90 Cancer... 90 Paralysis... 90 Withered Limbs... 90 Disease... 90 Catarrh... 90 Hay Fever... 90 Hip Disease... 90 Cataract... 90 Cavernous Tumors... 90 Cancer... 90 Gout... 90 Gall Stones... 90 St. Vitus' Dance... 90 Heart Trouble... 90 Throat Trouble... 90 Tonsils... 90 Throat Cancers... 90 Tonsils... 90 Toothache... 90 Pits... 90 Varicose Veins... 90 Dyspepsia... 90 Diphtheria... 90 Insanity... 75 Enlarged Tongue... 75 Loss of Vision... 75 Sore Throat... 75 Softening of Joints... 70 Diabetes... 70 Granulated Eyelids... 70 Appendicitis... 70 Enlarged Gall Bladder... 70 Rheumatic Fever... 70 Rheumatism... 70 Strabismus... 70 Dropsey... 70 Rheumatism... 70

This is the record of cases found out of their own offices, and no one is surprised at the results. Of course it is a matter of great importance to osteopaths to make a full showing and establish a precedent for such cases.

Make Use of Forfeited Life

The London Lancet publishes a suggestion from a medical correspondent that condemned smokers should have the option of submitting themselves to some simple pathological experiment as the alternative of being hanged. The writer urges that a life which is forfeited by the sin of smoking should be somehow and instead of being wasted. "If we could study disease in the laboratory of the human body, we might with some advantage look forward to almost endless possibilities."

Was Will Carleton's Verse

I notice in "The O. P." for this month that you have a poem entitled "The Doctor's Story," and say that it is clipped from an old magazine. This was written by Will Carleton and is found in "Farm Legends." The first two verses are omitted in your clipping and this robs the "Story" of half its charm. Mr. Carleton evidently had no more faith in drug medication than in his "Farm Legend." The first two verses are omitted in your clipping and this robs the "Story" of half its charm. Mr. Carleton evidently had no more faith in drug medication than in his "Farm Legend." The first two verses are omitted in your clipping and this robs the "Story" of half its charm. Mr. Carleton evidently had no more faith in drug medication than in his "Farm Legend."" bodies of pauper dead. An officer of the anatomical society said: "Forty bodies have disappeared mysteriously since last July. They were unclaimed bodies of pauper dead and should have been delivered to the anatomical society for distribution to medical colleges. Some of the bodies were small and some of them even sent out of the city. The supply is a friendly one, brought as a test. We mean to enforce the law and make those who are now trafficking in the bodies of the pauper dead comply with the law and deliver the bodies to the anatomical society."
THE OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

Pennsylvania Osteopathic Hospital

The Pennsylvania Osteopathic Hospital and Free Dispensary has been organized, conducted and supported by the progressive Osteopaths of Philadelphia. It is not a money-making project. It is an enterprise that is entirely charitable. Forty-five Osteopaths of the city have agreed to give a certain amount of time each week to the treatment of worthy poor. We have received much encouragement from the laity, and promises of financial support. It is our aim to grow into a fully equipped Osteopathic and Surgical Hospital including research and laboratories. The officers are: Dr. Charles J. Muttart, president; Dr. W. T. Roberts, vice president; Dr. Raymond W. Bailey, secretary; Dr. Ira S. Biade, treasurer; Dr. C. B. Keene, physician-in-chief; Dr. O. J. Snyder and Dr. E. D. Burleigh, directors. Fraternally, Dr. C. J. Muttart.

Osteopathic Obstetricians

Drs. Eckert and Case are prepared to furnish Hospital Accommodations and to take charge of a limited number of Cases of Complication. We have, for some time, been paying especial attention to this class of cases along with our other Osteopathic practice. We solicit correspondence from members of the profession who do not care to take charge of these cases.

W. H. ECKERT, D. O., M. D.
Address, DR. ECKERT AND CASE.
CENTURY BUILDING ST. LOUIS, MO.

THE NEW EDITION

of Hazzard's "Practice of Osteopathy"

(Third Edition, Revised and Enlarged)

Is now ready for delivery. It contains a great many additions and improvements to the former text. It has been much improved by embodying the results of the author's added experience and of the recent advances in the science of Osteopathy. It meets the demand for a book of practice, exclusively Osteopathic, and of moderate price.

SEND FOR SAMPLE PAGES.

FOR SALE BY THE
A. S. O. BOOK CO., Gen'l Ag'ts, Kirksville, Mo.
Prices: Cloth, $3.00; Half Morocco, $3.50.

Osteopathic Obstetrics

and "The O. P."

calls that one "the book of the year." It is the book edited by Dr. F. F. Young of the A. S. O. faculty and it is sold for $5.50. Would be cheap at $5.00, for you ought to have it any price. Order direct.

The Principles of Osteopathy

The College, Chicago D. O. who used to use such much space in the Chicago papers advertising himself as an Osteopath and who occasionally confused his identity with Dr. Joseph H. Sullivan, owing to the similarity in names, has been subject of a fraud order in the United States post office, which has cut him off from the use of the mails in exploiting himself and his health schemes. Recently he has been giving health horoscopes, "Osteopathy" and other things by mail, it is said, under the name of the Astorphysic Institute. Perhaps our profession can apply the same federal medicine in other localities to keep the name of Osteopathy from being sullied under false pretences.

Another One Amuck

Dr. J. Sullivan Howell, the Chicago M. D. who recently issued a book of the year,"The O. P."

was accused in the American College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery of publishing a book under a false name. The College has no such book to issue, and will be glad to confirm Dr. Howell's information to the effect that we have no such book in preparation. It is in the nature of a libel on the College and its officers, and it is in the nature of a libel on the osteopathic profession.

A Tor Heel Fakir

Editor of "The O. P."

is in receipt of a communication from Dr. W. N. White, of Trenton, N. J., enclosing a copy of a book which he has been sending to the osteopathic profession for the last few months. The book is entitled "The Osteopathic Physician," and it is a collection of articles on osteopathic subjects, with the exception of a few pages on the subject of osteopathic treatment of diseases of the nervous system.

GERAGHTY & CO.

Society and Convention
BADGES AND BUTTONS

61 La Salle Street, CHICAGO

TYPEWRITERS

NEW AND SECOND-HAND

On Easy Monthly Payments

Send for Catalogue and Price List

CENTRAL TYPEWRITER CO.

250 La Salle St., CHICAGO

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE

Osteopathic Medicine & Surgery

Member Associated Colleges of Osteopathy

This College is chartered to teach scientific Osteopathy applied to the healing art in all its branches. Its charter requires us to preserve the Osteopathic Theories and to apply them in therapeutics, surgery and obstetrics as an independent physiological system.

COURSES:

General osteopathic; for physicians, post graduates in surgery, ob& pediatrics and specialties.

Special Facilities:

Each student must select one (1) osteopathic subject, and these are listed on the catalogue. The College will give all the necessary time and instruction to enable the student to carry on in the subject selected.

Cost of Books: Students are responsible for all costs of books and supplies. They must purchase their books at the College Bookstore.

Finances: The College offers loans to qualified students.

"The O. P." would esteem it a favor if all Osteopaths who issue any printed matter of any nature relating to our science would always send two copies to the editor. Thanks in advance.

"Use four physicians: STILL, first, then Dr. Quiet, Next Dr. Merryman, Then Dr. Diet."
THE OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

IT'S A BACK SAVER

EVERY Osteopath has from one to a dozen patients that he must, for various reasons, treat in their homes. Owing to the fact I have invented a handy little folding table, which obviates all awkwardness, embarrassment and weariness connected with treating on low beds. It enables you to give your patient not a half, but a thorough treatment. It will get you extra calls and patients, save your time, and which means money, your back, which means your health, and add dignity to your practice and profession.

Just the thing for your branch office or home. Can include it for Trendelenburg position, or fold flat to set in closet. An ornament to any room. Tell your patients about it and they will buy one. Several such tables will prove a necessary in your practice. Oak-turned legs, imitation leather cover, strong and solid. Price, $9.50 each. For full description, address, A. D. Glascocx, D. O., Owosso, Mich.

WANT ADS.

A GOOD PRACTICE FOR SALE ON REASONABLE terms in town of 3,500 people, in beautiful southwestern Illinois. Address 65, care "O. P."

A GOOD PRACTICE FOR SALE IN PENNSYLVANIA. I want such for this summer. I would take care of your patients I hate to leave, and I want to get back to Chicago within the next ten days. Fraternally yours, H. I. Chiles, Secretary, Auburn, New York.

REGISTERED OSTEOPATH DESIRES POSITION In Massachusetts as assistant. Address 66, care "O. P."

FOR SALE—PRACTICE IN A THRIVING city in Iowa. Will sell for reasonable price for furniture. Address 66, care "O. P."

WANTED—TO LET, HALF DAY OR FULL DAY IN beautifully furnished, well located downtown office in Chicago. MIGHTY GIVE FULL TIME. Overlooks the lake. Address 67, care "O. P."

WANTED—POSITION AS ASSISTANT by gentleman that must, for various reasons, travel constantly. Address 68, care "O. P."

WANTED—LADY GRADUATE A. S. O., field experience, will take charge of practice for summer. Address 69, care "O. P."

WANTED—POSITION AS ASSISTANT BY lady Osteopath. Experienced. Address 69, care "O. P."

PRACTICE FOR SALE IN PENNSYLVANIA. town 2,900, with large surrounding country. No opposition. Address 61, care "O. P."

WANTED—TO BUY PRACTICE IN PENNSYLVANIA or New York. Address 62, care "O. P."

Notice.

Note.—Wants of all sorts printed in this department for five cents the word. We "key" your ad. for you, using an assumed name, receive answers and forward them, if you wish, to keep your identity concealed to all except your correspondent; a remittance with ad. Announcements of Help Wanted and Free Ads Open to Practitioners are printed free.

FOR SALE—PRACTICE IN A THRIVING city in Iowa. Will sell for reasonable price for furniture. Address 66, care "O. P."

WANTED—TO LET, HALF DAY OR FULL DAY IN beautifully furnished, well located downtown office in Chicago. MIGHTY GIVE FULL TIME. Overlooks the lake. Address 67, care "O. P."

WANTED—POSITION AS ASSISTANT by gentleman that must, for various reasons, travel constantly. Address 68, care "O. P."

WANTED—LADY GRADUATE A. S. O., field experience, will take charge of practice for summer. Address 69, care "O. P."

WANTED—POSITION AS ASSISTANT BY lady Osteopath. Experienced. Address 69, care "O. P."

PRACTICE FOR SALE IN PENNSYLVANIA. town 2,900, with large surrounding country. No opposition. Address 61, care "O. P."

WANTED—TO BUY PRACTICE IN PENNSYLVANIA or New York. Address 62, care "O. P."

REGISTERED OSTEOPATH DESIRES POSITION in Massachusetts as assistant. Address 66, care "O. P."

WANTED—A SECOND-HAND CHAIRING, vibrator, etc. Adjustable. Address 60, care "O. P."

A GOOD PRACTICE FOR SALE ON REASONABLE terms in town of 3,500 people, in beautiful southwestern Illinois. Address 65, care "O. P."

AN A. S. O. GRADUATE, JUNE, 1905, who has taken a course in medicine, wants a position to take care of an Osteopath's practice from May, 1906, or part of that time. Address 64, care "O. P."

FOR SALE—GOOD PRACTICE AND LOCATION in Illinois town of 2,900. Thickly settled country and small towns nearby. Address 67, care "O. P."

I WANT ONE COPY OF MAY, 1905, OSTEOPATHIC Health, to complete my file of binding and will pay for it. H. R. Kellogg, D. O., Lancaster, Pa.

WANTED,—STATIC MACHINE, fot plate micro or 16 glass plate. Address Inn. Classen & Classen, 316 Phoenix street, South Haven, Mich.

DO YOU KNOW OF A LADY OSTEOPATH who would like to take the beginnings of a good practice of my hands? I have some patients I hate to leave, and I want to get back to Chicago within the next ten days, if possible. Fraternally yours, Myrtilla M. Mace, D. O., Huron, S. D.

WANTED—POSITION AS ASSISTANT DURING summer with privilege of buying practice. Address Call Cull College, Des Moines, Ia.

ARE YOU EVER ASKED TO FIND AN Osteopath for a few months' office work by one who wishes to have a vacation? I would like to have such an opportunity for the summer, if necessary, or would take over a good business for less time. My recommendations are satisfactory, I am sure.—Dr. J. W. Stevenson, Des Moines, Ia.

IN THE OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN of Aug. 20, 1906, you asked Dr. C. M. T. Hulett about the practice of Osteopathy for which the copy of his book Priniples of Osteopathy is contained. I am sending you an application blank. See that it out and sends it to me. Wishing you a successful year, and hoping to meet you at the Museum of Osteopathic Medicine, Kirksville, Mo.

NOTICE

Do you expect to take post-graduate work at the A. S. O.? Do you wish to do some research work for Osteopathy? Are you willing to spend some extra time, or money, or both, and incidently learn some laboratory technique that would be impossible otherwise? If so, address Dr. George Still, of the "Hoffman-Still Laboratories."

TABLES TABLES TABLES

We manufacture the tables that look well and wear well. Price list and samples of covers sent on request. Folding tables, strong and durable, $6.50.

Dr. George T. Hayman, 375 Mint Arcade, Philadelphia

The Pacific College of Osteopathy

January 2, 1906

Dr. F. C. Whiting, Sc. D. D. O.

CHAIRMAN OF THE FACULTY

This college has long stood for thorough and practical professional training. It asks the favorable consideration of such men and women as wish to base their practice of Osteopathy upon a thoroughly scientific foundation.

Twenty Instructors and Lecturers.

Well Equipped Chemical, Physiological, Histological, Bacteriological and Anatomiical Laboratories.

Clinical Advantages Unsurpassed.

Work Throughout Based Upon Laboratory Methods.

Faculty Composed of Specialists in Their Several Lines Who are Wide Experience in Teaching.

The Required Course of Study Fits the Student for Practice in Any State in Which Osteopathy is Legalized.

Excellent Opportunities are Offered for Post-Graduate Work.

For Catalogue or Further Information, address

W. J. Cook, Business Manager

Daly St. and Mission Road, Los Angeles, Calif.

Dr. Clark's Gynecology

Of course you do a lot of gynecological work as that is one of the "strengths" of Osteopathy. You are entitled to all the best thought and assistance on this subject that the profession has formulated. Its scope is contained in Dr. Clark's Gynecology. It is in its 2d edition. But I am the only one who can get a copy of it. Have you got your copy yet? $5.00 the copy. Order of "Cooper," at Kirksville, or direct of

Dr. M. E. Clark, Kirksville, Mo.

Third Edition Revised

NOW READY

Principles of Osteopathy

By G. D. Hulett, B. S. D. O.

Address Dr. C. M. T. HULETT, 1208 New England Building, Cleveland, Ohio.

The Locke Adjustable Table

MAY

Judge for yourself! How good! No issue of "Osteopathic Health" was ever filled with better articles.

MAY 1906

THE OSTEOPATHIC PUBLISHING COMPANY
171 Washington St.
CHICAGO

Table of Contents

- The Osteopathic Physician
- Publisher's Corner
- Bid for Women's Diseases
- May
- Osteopathic Medicine, Kirksville, MO
- Museum of Osteopathic Medicine, Kirksville, MO
- Happy to keep up the summer practice. Our regular edition of April was exhausted on April 1, and by April 4 we were several thousand copies "overstocked"—orders accepted and money accepted in most instances without dreaming that we had no copies left to meet this demand. So a second edition was unavoidable. We estimated how many more we might sell during April, and added a couple of thousand copies for "back number" supply next month, and ran the second edition. Second surprise: This stock also was entirely sold out by April 15.

We admit our gratification at this evidence of appreciation from the field. It must be that the hard work we are giving "Osteopathic Health" to make it a certainty is being fruitfull. This encouragement will make us work harder in each future month—always trying to exceed our last month in quality and volume of business.

There are enough "back numbers" left to supply those who still think they want the best literature at prices as cheap as the lowest, if orders are placed now.

The Osteopathic Directory for 1906 will be mailed to any regular Osteopath, and as long as he prescribes for "try" Osteopathy he will attract attention. This encouragement will make us work harder in each future month—always trying to exceed our last month in quality and volume of business.

Publisher's Notes

We had two such issues this month. Our regular edition of April was exhausted on April 1, and by April 4 we were several thousand copies "overstocked"—orders accepted and money accepted in most instances without dreaming that we had no copies left to meet this demand. So a second edition was unavoidable. We estimated how many more we might sell during April, and added a couple of thousand copies for "back number" supply next month, and ran the second edition. Second surprise: This stock also was entirely sold out by April 15.

We admit our gratification at this evidence of appreciation from the field. It must be that the hard work we are giving "Osteopathic Health" to make it a certainty is being fruitfull. This encouragement will make us work harder in each future month—always trying to exceed our last month in quality and volume of business.

There are enough "back numbers" left to supply those who still think they want the best literature at prices as cheap as the lowest, if orders are placed now.

The Osteopathic Directory for 1906 will be mailed to any regular Osteopath, and as long as he prescribes for "try" Osteopathy, he will attract attention. This encouragement will make us work harder in each future month—always trying to exceed our last month in quality and volume of business.

There are enough "back numbers" left to supply those who still think they want the best literature at prices as cheap as the lowest, if orders are placed now.

The Osteopathic Directory for 1906 will be mailed to any regular Osteopath, and as long as he prescribes for "try" Osteopathy he will attract attention. This encouragement will make us work harder in each future month—always trying to exceed our last month in quality and volume of business.

There are enough "back numbers" left to supply those who still think they want the best literature at prices as cheap as the lowest, if orders are placed now.

The Osteopathic Directory for 1906 will be mailed to any regular Osteopath, and as long as he prescribes for "try" Osteopathy, he will attract attention. This encouragement will make us work harder in each future month—always trying to exceed our last month in quality and volume of business.

There are enough "back numbers" left to supply those who still think they want the best literature at prices as cheap as the lowest, if orders are placed now.

The Osteopathic Directory for 1906 will be mailed to any regular Osteopath, and as long as he prescribes for "try" Osteopathy, he will attract attention. This encouragement will make us work harder in each future month—always trying to exceed our last month in quality and volume of business.

There are enough "back numbers" left to supply those who still think they want the best literature at prices as cheap as the lowest, if orders are placed now.

The Osteopathic Directory for 1906 will be mailed to any regular Osteopath, and as long as he prescribes for "try" Osteopathy, he will attract attention. This encouragement will make us work harder in each future month—always trying to exceed our last month in quality and volume of business.

There are enough "back numbers" left to supply those who still think they want the best literature at prices as cheap as the lowest, if orders are placed now.
THE OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

Gallery of Osteopathic Pioneers

Dr. Ashmore a Specialist in Case Reports

The name of Edythe Ashmore, D. O., Valpey being graduated at that time, is synonymous with "case reports," and whenever the profession mentions one it naturally thinks of the other as concomitant. Dr. Ashmore, who is one of the two original members of the Still college graduates in our national professional councils, has really done a valiant work in laying the foundations of our professional archives, having issued several volumes of case reports as supplements of the Association Journal, and to her infinite patience and ceaseless remembrance of our cases, is due the fashion of keeping accurate records of our cases.

We use the word "fashion" in the hope that it is actually a custom already—it surely deserves to be.

Sometimes Dr. Ashmore is referred to as the "case-reports-beggar." One of our punsters said at Denver last summer: "Edy—the(e) Ashmore then to it. Still she kept on, begging more and better case reports, and it is fair to surmise that the excellent work already done in this direction by Dr. Ashmore is only in its inception.

Dr. Ashmore's interesting personality may be accounted for by atavism. She is three-eighths Scotch. That accounts for her steadfast convictions and her loyalty to her friends—right or wrong, for they are her friends still. This is a truly womanly trait. The heart is the predominant factor of the typical woman. Edythe is typical of her sex. Men may call friends to account, but women will not—unless to give proof of friendship. Most all else can be taken for granted in a woman.

Miss Ashmore became assistant city editor of the Republican daily at Ogden, Utah, doing assignments also for the Salt Lake dailies.

In March, 1896, she first heard of Osteopathy. Having taught the Swedish system of gymnastics for a time, she had come to regard the body as a machine, and the spine as an indicator of the strength of the system. Osteopathy was, therefore, the very thing she had been seeking, and she now lost no opportunity for information regarding the new science.

She inducted Dr. U. M. Hihlits to come to Utah to practice during his vacation, and became his first patient, being cured of a severe dorsal and cervical neuralgia in five weeks time. This finished the conversion. Had it not been that she preferred newspaper work at that time, she doubtless would have joined the ranks of students at the A. S. O. at once, but Fate had other lessons for Miss Ashmore to learn, among them the fact, and she spent the next 18 months in Detroit recovering from overwork. At the end of that time she went to Still College of Osteopathy to be graduated in June, 1901. From the first knowledge of Osteopathy that came her way she kept close track of its advances and its early practitioners, and has often surprised the pioneers by reminiscences of their early trials with which she had been familiar.

Dr. Ashmore has traveled extensively in the west, visiting our schools and practitioners and professional societies en route.

Dr. Ashmore became identified with A. O. A. work at the Milwaukee convention, and has served as a trustee or on the publication committee ever since. She is broad-minded and thorough and thoroughly professional, and lends her influence always for the common good in our profession to the exclusion and practical forgetting of school affiliations. So much has this been true, that quite a lot of Osteopaths believe that she is an A. O. A. alumnus. It is a good sign when the workers in our ranks thus seek only the united professional spirit and its prevalence.

By the way, send Dr. Ashmore a good case report before you forget it!

A Hundred Years Hence

Give me a spoon of oleo, ma, And the sodium alkali, For I'm going to make a pie, mamma! I'm going to make a pie.

For John will be hungry and tired, ma, And his tissues will decompose; So give me a gram of phosphate, And the carbon and cellulose.

Now give me a chunk of caseine, ma, To shorten the thermic fat, And give me the oxygen bottle, ma, And look at the thermostat. And if the temperature is cold Just turn it on half okay.

For I want to have the supper ready As soon as John comes home.—Ex. Personal

Dr. E. B. Waters, who intended removing his office to Mount Carmel, III., has decided to remain in Whitehall, Ill., and he will establish a branch office in his old house, in partnership with Dr. J. Grace Frindle.

Dr. C. H. Conner, of Albuquerque, presiding officer of the New Mexico osteopathic society, has returned home from Phoenix, where he has been of late very busy recuperating from the effects of a severe attack of pneumonia.

Dr. Beere, of Albert Lea, Minn., has left for a much needed vacation and will remain away for three months, journeying in the warmer climates of Southern Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. In Oklahoma City he will make a special study of the diseases of the eye. Dr. J. W. Martin will take charge of his practice while he is away.

Dr. G. H. Peterson, who intends to give up his practice in Petaluma, Cal., about a year ago due to lack of health, enjoyed good outdoor life, by which he has recovered his health, and he will now again resume practice at Washoe Co. Bank building, Reno, Nev.

Dr. J. L. Dietzman was compelled to give up his practice at Beloit, Wis., on account of his failing health, and has taken a trip to Rockledge, Fla., for a rest.

Dr. Warren L. Gardiner, of Corning, Iowa, was called to the bedside of his sister, who has been very sick with typhoid fever in Eugene, Ore. He will shortly return to his practice, as he found her rapidly improving under Osteopathic treatment.

Dr. E. E. Hook, of Cherokee, Iowa, who went to Kirksville for a post graduate course, which he now completed, will open his offices at 614 Pennsylvania ave., Topeka, Kan.

Dr. C. A. Broach, who was formerly practicing in the same office with his daughter, Elizabeth, in Muskegon, Mich., has been at an office at 55-59 Inman building, Atlanta, Ga., to better accommodate his practice.

Dr. M. P. Browning, of the Osteopathic firm of Browning & Bradley, at Macomb, Ill., delivered an interesting lecture at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, of Macomb, on the subject of "Discovery, Development and Principles of Osteopathy."

Dr. O. H. Goslin, who has been practicing in Greenfield, Iowa, for the past two and one-half years, has decided to locate in Marshallville, Iowa, where he has opened an Osteopathic sanitarium in the location of the old East Lake property, west of the square a block.

Dr. and Mrs. L. A. DeCatter, of Chattanooga, Tenn., attended the meeting of the Tennessee Osteopathic Association at Memphis, Tenn.

Dr. Josephine Hartwig, who has been practicing in Gibson City, Ill., has taken to Decatur, Ill., where she will open an office in the Powers building, the honor of being the only lady Osteopath in the city.

Dr. C. L. Biltz, of Kansas City, Mo., recently purchased a building on West Park Row and has established his new office there. With his other equipments, he has recently, at a large expense, purchased an electric incandescent bath cabinet for his patients.
Dr. Roy W. Marsh in the last Office practice. We Rockwell, who is an A-06 copyreader at this notice your address. Loula A. Rockwell, A-06. at Asheville, N.C.

Removals

Dr. Emma Johnstone, from Marengo, Ill., to Eighteenth and Logan streets, Clarinda, Ia.
Dr. J. W. Geeslin, from Mendon, Minn., to 475 Orono Street, Bemidji, Minn.
Dr. A. Pickler & Willits, from 409 New Dayton street, Chicago, to 804 Napoleon building, Neoliot and Third streets, Minn.
Dr. Louise Lewis, from 108 Post Office building, Des Moines, to 515 Delaware building, St. Louis, Mo.
Dr. John E. Moyer, from 194 Broadway to 200 West Eighteenth street, New York, N. Y.
Dr. Eli L. Streets, from 375 Dale to 215 Madison building, Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Subscribers Notice

On or before June 15th, 1906, the subscribers' price of "The Osteopathic Physician" will be raised to $1.00 per annum.

Until we make a further announcement (which may be several months earlier than this), new subscriptions will be entered and old subscriptions will be renewed at the present rate of 50 cents.

This decision has been taken upon our own responsibility and without consultation with our friends, that "The O. P." is even worth $5.00 a year.

Our friend, The Journal of Osteopathy, has also discovered the same thing. You will find a new raise in subscription price of "The Physician" will be raised to $1.00 per annum.

Corrections

We reported recently in the last "O. P." that your subscription to "The Osteopathic Physician" would be cut $1.00 per annum, in order to bestow a handsome illustrated newspaper on you. It was realized that fifty cents a year does not begin to pay for the sort of handsome illustrated newspaper that we now issue.

Our nonassociate friends tell us that "The O. P." is even worth $5.00 a year.

Married

Dr. Oliver Gamble, from Lake Cemetery, Arroyo Grande, Calif., to 420 North Oregon street, El Paso, Texas. The latter having located in Robinson, Ill.

Dissolution of Partnership

Drs. A. D. Campbell to Miss Helen L. Svedberg, of Chicago, to Pratt, Kan.

Correction

We reported recently in the last "O. P." that your subscription to "The Osteopathic Physician" would be cut $1.00 per annum, in order to bestow a handsome illustrated newspaper on you. It was realized that fifty cents a year does not begin to pay for the sort of handsome illustrated newspaper that we now issue.

Our nonassociate friends tell us that "The O. P." is even worth $5.00 a year.

Married

Dr. George A. Still to Miss Ardelia Docke,

Birth

To Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Evans, of Chatta-

Drs. W. E. Scott and Frances Butcher, from Ninth and Fellows' building to 229-32 "Frisco building, Los Angeles, Cal.

Dr. A. D. Campbell to Miss Helen L. Svedberg, of Chicago, to Pratt, Kan.

Dr. George A. Still to Miss Ardelia Dock
dey, at Des Moines, Ia., March 19.

Death

Dr. Leslie E. Cheney, Milwaukee, Wis., March 23, of typhoid fever. He was a son of Dr. Willard and Mrs. Willard, of Kirksville, Mo.

READER, ATTENTION!!

If you see a RED STAR stamped on opposite this notice your subscription to "The Osteopathic Physician" has been renewed for another year, and includes a magazine worth $1.00. You are also eligible to become a subscriber to this newspaper. We are sending you this sample copy hoping that you will desire to become a subscriber to this newspaper. The subscription price of "The Osteopathic Physician" is $1.00 per annum. If you wish to subscribe, please send us your name, address, and your subscription price of $1.00, which includes a magazine worth $1.00. This subscription price is available to all readers.

No one, not a subscriber to "The O. P." who receives a sample copy this month without responding with a subscription, will receive another free copy within four months. Subscription price, 50 cents now; $1.00 afterward.

Museum of Osteopathic Medicine, Kirksville, MO