

FY19

Purpose: Advance whole person healthcare and wellness through development and support of premier clinical and translational research. Goal: Explore and advance the scientific evidence base of osteopathic medicine and associated health professions within A.T. Still University.

Three Centers/Three Themes

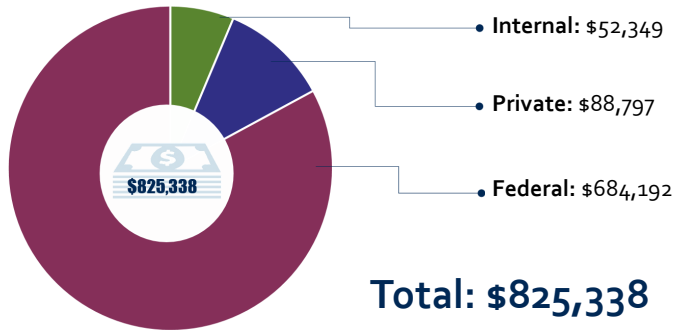

- Center for Research in Osteopathic Manipulative Medicine
- Center for Oral Health Research
- National Center for Community Health Research

Membership

46 Research members engaged
+10 Members in FY19

Member Grants

Educational Offerings

KCOM

360 1st and 2nd year students engaged
5 assessments with objective measures of palpation skills

OMM Semester Course Alternative Track

20 hours of labs offered
10 student participants

Advancing Skills in Osteopathy (ASO)

3 courses—80 hours total
24 post-graduate clinicians trained

77 Publications

Annual Biomedical Symposium

11th consecutive year

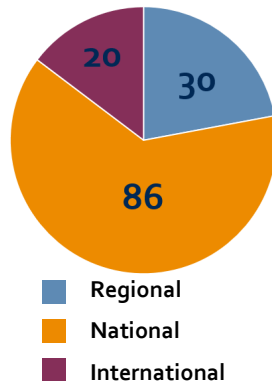

- ⇒ Expanded ACGME engagement
- ⇒ 34 resident participants
- ⇒ 170 attendees (+14% from FY18)
- ⇒ 77 posters in 10 different categories (+20% from FY18)
- ⇒ 40 judges

136 Presentations

Sample Conferences:

- American Academy of Osteopathy (AAO)
- American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine (AACOM)
- American Dental Education Association (ADEA)
- American Medical Association (AMA)
- American Physical Therapy Association (APTA)
- National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA)

Osteopathic Heritage Foundation Endowment

- Valued at over $4.9 million
- 12th consecutive year of funding
- Supports Center for Research in Osteopathic Manipulative Medicine

Thank you to our External Board Members: Marian Hannan, DSc, MPH, Harvard Medical School; Lori Michener, PhD, PT, ATC SCS, FAPTA, University of Southern California; Wilson Pace, MD, FAAFP, University of Colorado; Ray Williams, DMD, University of North Carolina School of Dentistry