MISSION

To prepare professionals who are committed to excellence in the delivery of services to individuals with speech, language, and swallowing disorders and to the advancement of the scientific foundations of the profession using evidence-based clinical practices. The pedagogy of multicultural education is a cornerstone of this program with a significant emphasis toward educating speech-language pathologists and delivery of bilingual services. The curriculum will focus on addressing issues of diversity through culturally responsive practices and using competency-based methods with interpreters to provide ethical services to individuals from linguistically diverse backgrounds.

VISION

To provide an exemplary educational experience that prepares the next generation of clinicians, researchers, scholars, and leaders to make a global impact.

PURPOSE

To improve the lives of individuals with communication and swallowing disorders.
