Two Campuses, One Resource
What can Research Support do for you?

The purpose of Research Support is to help facilitate and disseminate research performed by A.T. Still University researchers. Research Support staff are able to assist with research projects from inception through publication. To provide the best support to our University researchers, each campus has research support staff available to assist with your research projects.

Assistant Directors

Ken Pamperin, MS (Kirksville)
Alison Snyder Valier, PhD, ATC (Mesa)

The assistant directors oversee and assign Research Support resources. Funded projects may be given resource priority. Each campus has its own assistant director.

Statisticians

Jane Johnson, MA (Kirksville)
Curt Bay, PhD (Mesa)

The statisticians assist with study design, sample size calculations, and statistical analyses.

Scientific Writer

Deborah Goggin, MA

The scientific writer assists with manuscript preparation and other editorial needs. This Research Support resource is shared by both campuses.

Research Coordinators

Qunying Yang, MS (Kirksville)
Mariel Yakuboff, MS, ATC (Mesa)
Celia Hagan, RN (Kirksville)
Madison Anderson (Colorado)
Natalie Shurtz, MHA (Kirksville)

Research coordinators assist with subject recruitment, data collection, and data processing.

Post-doctoral Research Fellow

Kenneth Lam, ScD, ATC (Mesa)

The research fellow assists with projects that involve the assessment of clinical outcomes, specifically those that are patient-based. This Research Support resource is available only on the Mesa campus.

Interdisciplinary Research Laboratory Director

Tamara Valovich McLeod, PhD, ATC (Mesa)

The director assists with the use of the equipment and laboratory space in the Interdisciplinary Research Laboratory on the Mesa campus. This Research Support resource is available only on the Mesa campus.
